Awards

Express & Star

Express & Star Award for Best Editorial Design

September - 2018

Designed a poster/zine for the ISTD (International Society of Typographic Designers) competition as part of a university project. The brief was to pick a word and design a piece around the etymology of the word only using type. I chose the word "idiot" due to its interesting political background. The finished piece used the font ITC Garamond printed with white ink on black sugar paper for an ancient aesthetic interlinked with its Greek heritage.
